OUT OF TOWN.

When August hangs the bough with plums, The dusty city sparrow comes, For sojourn in the country sweet, To taste the barley and the wheat.

Like any country bird he walks Down the gold aisles of bearded stalks, Pecks juicy grains in ear, and takes His pleasure in the barley-brakes.

He bathes in dew at morn, and preens His sooty coat to mock the sheens Of swallow, fieldfare, flush and wren That hate the dusty ways of men.

His cynic wit, his mocking eye, The innocent country ways decoy: Though dews may wash his feathers clean He hath the urchin's heart within.

The gossip his of chimney-stacks, Wherefore the pleasant country lacks Something, his ear the silence tires Who nests amid the city spires.

To the perpetual green and gold In dusk and dew his eyes are cold: For his untraveled heart yet turns Home where the smoky city burns.

A little while for health he stays Where Flora paints the country-ways, Yet holds that still the town is best For men and birds of wit and taste.

HAVE YOU HEARD FROM MAINE?

HOW THE DEMOCRATIC TARIFF BILL IS "INDORSED."

The Greatest Majority in the State's History—Congressman Reed, Elected by 1,677 in 1892, is Re-elected by 10,000 Majority.

CLEVELAND BADGES DID IT.

Have you heard from Maine?

This seems to be a bad year for Democrats!

The Republicans of Maine have just elected a Republican Governor by 37,000 majority—the largest in the history of the state.

The Republicans carried every county in the state and the Legislature will have a working Republican majority of 125, which insures the re-election of Senator William P. Frye.

In the First District "Czar" Reed was elected to Congress in 1892 by 1,677. He has been re-elected by over 10,000 majority!

In the Second District Nelson Dingley was elected to Congress in 1892 by 3,628. He has just been re-elected by 6,000.

In the Third District Seth H. Milliken was elected to Congress in 1892 by 1,882. He has just been re-elected by 5,000.

In the Fourth District Charles A. Boutelle was elected to Congress in 1892 by 4,288. He has just been re-elected by 4,000 majority.

In 1892 Harrison carried the state by 14,979. The present Republican majority of 37,000 isn't much of a gain—oh, no!

And it does look like the people are "indorsing" the Democratic Free-trade foolishness—doesn't it, Br'er Marsh?

Let us pray!

AND HAVE YOU HEARD FROM VERMONT?

Returns from Vermont show the Republican majority to be 27,310, and the plurality 28,356.

Republican gain, 9,274.

Democratic loss, 4,993.

The Senate is a Republican unit, and the House stands Republicans 233, Democrats 9, Populists 1.

Let us pray some more!

Peaches! Peaches! Peaches! Now is the time at Martin Brothers.

The Rev. C. J. Nugent, formerly of this city, who has been stationed at Paris the past year, expects to be returned by the Conference which meets at Frankfort this week.

By the will of the late Jesse Worthington the family residence, the proceeds of the farm and all money and notes are allotted to his wife, the former during her life. A farm on the Mayslick and Lewisburg dirt road is left to his oldest son, William D. Worthington. The home farm, excepting the residence, is left to his daughter, Mrs. Mariel T. Wood, the residence to be hers also after the death of his wife. His gold watch is left to Robert Cook.

SHOOTING AT WASHINGTON.

Bill Thomas, Colored, Badly Hurt By John Larkin.

John Larkin lost a hog.

And it is said that Bill Thomas became its unlawful possessor.

At all events there was a shotgun argument over the matter at Washington yesterday afternoon, in which Larkin was the shooter and Thomas the shootee.

Thomas was shot in the shoulder, but is not dangerously hurt.

Larkin's hearing is set for this afternoon at Washington before Squire Wood. He will be defended by Frank P. O'Donnell of this city.

ESCAPED FROM THE CONVENT

"SHE LEFT WITHOUT SAYING GOOD-BYE"

After Long Planning a Sister Quietly Departs—But There's a Sequel to the Story.

There has been a good deal of quiet talk recently in limited circles in this city about the escape of a Sister from the Convent of the Visitation.

Like a ball of snow, the longer it is rolled the larger it becomes, and so the wider a "secret" is spread the sooner it leaks out, for in this age of electricity and newspapers it is just a trifle short of the impossible to long keep things from the public eye and ear.

The story, as it came to THE LEDGER, is somewhat as follows:

Sister Mary Berchmans—whose worldly name is Miss Josephine Lane—is the daughter of well-to-do parents who live in New York.

For several years she had been a teacher of music, Latin, writing and sewing in the Convent, having been a former pupil of that institution.

Soon the novelty of Convent life wore off and she began planning an escape.

A few days after the recent closing exhibition exercises the opportunity came, and with the assistance of a brother and a Miss Theis of Georgetown, O., she walked quietly beyond the inclosure, leaving her "habit" behind. The young lady friend was of the same size as Sister Mary, and she provided an extra dress in which the Nun robed herself at the exit gate.

It was not long after till she was on board an Eastbound C. and O. train, speeding to her New York home as fast as steam could carry her.

The story is a pretty one, and forms the basis for a most entertaining novel; but here comes the sequel, furnished to THE LEDGER by the Convent authorities:

"FROM A CONVENT."

The Post correspondent who sent from Maysville the special with above heading has things strangely confused.

As there is neither motive nor reason for concealment, we proceed to state the facts in the case:

The person whom the writer designates "Sister Josephine" was not Sister Josephine at all, but Sister Berchmans, and her family name, instead of being Buchman, was Lane. That Miss Lane's people are well-to-do is hardly possible, as she was received into the Community at Maysville portionless, being unable to bring a dowry.

According to her own statement, in the letter which she left containing her alleged reasons for departure, her unnecessary escape had not been contemplated for two years but only for several months, probably dating from February, at which time she was removed from the corps of teachers in the Academy, being considered, on account of lightness of mind, unfit to guide young children. Miss Lane, be it said to the credit of the well known and excellent Academy at Maysville, was never a pupil of said institution.

We would further remark that it was wholly unnecessary for Miss Lane to take so much trouble to make her "escape," as the Convent doors will be readily opened to any Sister who expresses a desire to re-enter the world.

Moreover, the person in question need not have stolen out of the back door of the parochial school, in which she was never a teacher, as she held the keys of the front door of the Convent, being portress.

Jennie Theis of Georgetown is the girl who assisted Miss Lane in her would-be romantic "escape."

Squire John L. Grant, as Presiding Judge of the County Court, yesterday granted liquor license to Con Guilfoyle of Mayslick.

The State Convention of the Catholic Knights of America is in session at Lexington. There are about one hundred delegates in attendance.

John Moore, painter, fell off the roof of one of M. C. Russell's houses on Casto street this morning. Fortunately he wasn't hurt. He fell about fourteen feet.

Henry Worick, aged 48, youngest brother of Mr. Alfred Worick of this city, died near Flemingsburg Monday from typhoid fever. He was buried Tuesday. Just a week previous the youngest sister of the family died at Lexington, aged about 50. Her remains were taken to Fleming county for interment.

DOWN THEY WENT.

AND THEY SAY IT WASN'T THE EMPIRE THIS TIME.

It Was Bruner and Taylor and Hill That Did the Mischief—Another Game Today.

The Maysville team was given a hard fall yesterday afternoon at Paris by the Bourbonites.

Wellner pitched a good game, but was given very ragged support and Paris won by a score of 15 to 3.

As a starter Taylor injured his hand while practicing in the morning. He went in behind the bat, however, and as was expected, made a poor showing.

Taylor was sent to short in the fifth inning, and Hill, who had been playing his position miserably, was substituted, and if anything was worse than Taylor.

Bruner in left capped the climax by dropping two high flies that were easy chances, and that too when the bases were full in each instance.

Wadsworth played third again and accepted everything that came to his territory in clever style. He also made a timely hit.

The home team was induced to stay over and play again today.

NOTES.

Wellner made two nice hits in yesterday's game at Paris.

With Taylor disabled the chances are that our boys will get it in the neck again today.

Rogers also had on his batting clothes yesterday. Lawrence always was easy work for Clark.

The Ashland team will play the locals here Friday and Saturday. Sparks and Nie, Maysville's ex-battery, have joined the Ashland team and will be in the points for the visitors in Friday's game. The Ashland team has been strengthened considerably since they were here early in the season, and if our boys can win both games from them everything will be forgiven.

Now is the time to sow bluegrass seed. The first rain will bring it up and if the fall is seasonable a good seed will be made before winter sets in. Be sure to sow before the equinoctial rains, which are to be expected about the 20th of this month.

The friends of ex-Governor John C. Underwood, who has been urging his appointment as Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, have about given up all hope as it is generally believed that Commissioner of Customs Fugh, who will be legislated out of office October 1st, who is now acting Superintendent, will finally be appointed to that position.

Monday's rain at Cincinnati caused the river men to discuss the prospects of a rising river and the resumption of navigation after the low water last year. It was recalled that after a short retirement last year of about two weeks from the Manchester trade, the Lizzie Bay left for Kanawha River Sept. 7th, 1893, and made several trips in that trade, being succeeded by the steamer Stanley.

THAT "OFFENSIVE" CHARGE.

PROTEST AGAINST THE FIRING OF LETTER CARRIERS.

A Former Patron of the Postoffice Testifies to the Tidiness and Accommodation of Will Davis.

The following letter does not need a diagram:

CINCINNATI, O., September 10th, 1894.
Thomas A. Davis, Esq., Editor Daily Ledger—Dear Sir: I was very much surprised to see in a recent number of THE LEDGER that Postmaster Chenoweth had requested the removal of Will and Charles Davis, carriers, the former on the grounds of untidiness and the latter for being a devotee of baseball. Now, as a former resident of your city, living on the route traversed by the carriers mentioned, and being personally acquainted with each, I deem it my duty to raise my voice in protest against such charges by the P. M., and to say that in his over-zealous partisanship he does injustice to two very worthy, honest young men. In the first place it was often a comment in my family as to the neat, tidy appearance and gentlemanly deportment of Will Davis, and how your P. M., even though his Cleveland bedimmed eyes, could find cause to complain of slovenliness I am at a loss to conjecture. In the second place Charles Davis was only a "sub" carrier, and of course had plenty of time on hand in which to indulge any love of baseball or other innocent sport he might wish, never failing to be on hand at the P. O. when duty demanded. Now, I think the action of Postmaster Chenoweth is quite far-fetched, and that the facts in the case will not sustain the charge. It is only a subterfuge to deprive of their position the sons of two of the most loyal people that ever lived in Maysville—the mother of whom I think the late rebellion in Democratic Kentucky had the temerity to fling to the breezes on every occasion "Old Glory," and whose father had the courage to shoulder his gun, leave home and friends and go the front to help suppress the cause so warmly espoused by your present P. M. I hope the proper authorities will have the good sense to pay no attention to such childish twaddle, and that the "boys" may continue in their positions. Yours, etc., A. B. GREENWOOD, Mrs. A. B. GREENWOOD.
